

WHERE GREAT EVENTS DO GOOD

From glitzy gala dinners and corporate conferences to intimate weddings and family celebrations, whatever event you're planning, we have a venue that's perfect for it.

Adam Smith Theatre

Just a five-minute wander from Kirkcaldy's train station, you'll find the Adam Smith Theatre – named after one of the town's most-influential sons and just as impressive as its namesake.

Step inside and you'll discover a building whose stage can tell a century of stories. You'll feel the old soul of its stone and wood – that tangible energy that only the very best theatres have.

You'll swear you can hear the echo of countless laughs, gasps, and tales from down the years. You'll feel the warmth, deep in your bones, that says 'there's some magic here.'

You'll do all this and wonder how such a historic building can meld so seamlessly with modern accessibility standards, equipment, and versatility.

Recently updated thanks to a multi-million-pound refurbishment, the Adam Smith Theatre can host everything from conferences and gala dinners to showstopping theatre productions and intimate weddings.

Whether you're welcoming a handful for an important meeting or embracing the clamour of the Smith's capacity of 475 for a conference, you'll find a versatile, vibrant venue chock-full of character.

Get in touch today and let us show you how your event can play a part in the next chapter of the Adam Smith Theatre's story.
